

Ethical behavior and sustainability in the sense of legal, economic, ecological and social responsibility are essential values of Brucha. This also includes long-term and trusting partnerships and the legally compliant behavior of suppliers.

Brucha strives to support local suppliers. Therefore, we strive to include smaller and local suppliers in our sourcing processes whenever possible to support the local economy. In some cases, we purchase our raw materials, as well as consulting and business services, from local suppliers.

Purpose

This Policy applies to all Brucha activities, locations, employees and parties working on behalf of Brucha. Business unit or shared function leaders are responsible for ensuring that this policy is implemented in their respective business units.

Compliance and enforcement

We are all responsible for complying with this policy and following supporting company standards, procedures and processes. We consider violation of and non-compliance with this policy to be serious issues. Depending on the circumstances, a violation of the policy may result in local disciplinary action.

Exception handling

Exceptions to this policy require prior written approval from their policy approver. Unless exception conditions exist, exceptions will not be granted.
